(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Madison — A graphic illustration of the destinations of 66,000 Wisconsin dairy cattle shipped outside the state during the last year has been prepared by Paul O. Nyhus, state-federal crop statistician. The illustration shows that Wisconsin dairy cattle went to every state in the nation during the year with the exception of Oregon, New Hampshire and Rhode Island. In addition, they went to eight foreign countries.

Towa was the destination of 14,622 Badger cattle. The illustrated map shows the destination of 14,615 and Minnesota, the destination of 6,706. ### PREDICT HIGH PRICE FOR WINTER EGGS

High prices for eggs this winter are forecasted by J. B. Hayes of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture. He bases his prediction on the shortage of eggs in storage. There are now about a million less cases of eggs in storage than normal. While feed prices are also expected to be high, he believes it will pay well to feed hens liberally as the difference between feed costs and selling prices will also be greater. Hayes urges using rather heavy feed now on grain feed containing yellow corn and then give free access to a complete dry mash mixture, especially to the pullets.

BANQUET MEETING ON WEDNESDAY EVE

To Celebrate Show Herd Return and Entertain Mississippi Tourists.

A change of schedule in the tour of the Mississippi cotton belt farm-visiting Wisconsin necessitated the holding of the Rock county banquet on Wednesday night, 7 p. m., Oct. 8, instead of Thursday as planned. The banquet meeting will have two purposes, to celebrate the successful exhibition of the Rock county show herd cattle and to entertain the southern visitors.

On Thursday the southerners will be taken on a tour to a number of practical dairy farms in the county. Governor Henry Whitfield is among the Mississippians.

J. A. Craig, Janesville, will preside during the meeting. A. J. Glover, Port Atkinson, will be one of the speakers.

NEBRASKA SAFE FOR PRES. COOLIDGE

over to this country and attacked us, we would have fought them, for this is our country, but as it was we should have stayed on this side and let Europe alone."

"Most of these with whom I talked said so. There were some who claimed we would have hard times if we voted for LaFollette, but I don't believe it."

Yet in this last sentence may be read the key to the situation. It is the strongest weapon of attack that has yet been employed among the Germans—the scare about "hard business conditions." It will make more Germans hesitate about voting for LaFollette than anything else.

Several influential Germans like Val Peters, editor of a German newspaper and leader of the German-American Alliance before the war, are openly campaigning for President Coolidge.

Some indication of the importance which the republican management attributes to the German vote may be obtained by watching the careful distribution throughout the state of the argument that LaFollette's idea of having congress override the supreme court of the United States would in the end work hardship on the Germans and other minorities. This state passed a drastic measure in wartime prohibiting the teaching of any but the English language in the grade schools.

The law was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. So also was the Oregon law which would have wiped out parochial schools.

But, this is a long and technical argument and will not be easy to use with the German who knows it is a far cry between a proposal of a constitutional amendment and a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress plus action by three-fourths of the states, which would almost lose their sovereignty by making congress supreme.

What really counts with the German voter is the old-fashioned argument about prosperity, hard times and all the ramble that are supposed to be imminent, if the election is thrown into the house of representatives.

Many business men, Germans and others, have become apprehensive that a vote for LaFollette means confusion; so many of them are deserting Davis to make sure that Coolidge will win Nebraska's vote. Evidence of the statement of Clem Shaver, democratic national chairman, to the effect that the election was likely to be thrown into the house of representatives for decision had had just the opposite effect from that which he intended.

Instead of winning votes for Davis, many conservative democrats have been turned toward Coolidge. What ever the defection of Germans is toward LaFollette, and unquestionably it will be large, there will be acquisitions to make up for it.

The German vote probably will not be cast as a single block this time. It will be split up because President Coolidge is not associated with the argument over the entry of the United States into the war, and because of domestic issues, especially the improvement in agricultural conditions will tend to hold many German republicans in line. If Mr. Coolidge holds 60 per cent of the German vote he will carry the state easily. If he acquires Poles, Bohemians and other foreign-born voters to offset his losses to LaFollette, he will still carry the state. The situation appears to favor the president.

WILL ENLIST 150 IN "Y" CAMPAIGN

15 Captains, Six Division Leaders Selected for Big Drive

Selective conscription for civic patriotic service will be in force in Janesville during the next few days. This somewhat "selective" conscription has been authorized by the Y. M. C. A. being scheduled for the seven days, Oct. 21 to 28.

Impetus to the movement to provide Janesville with modern equipment for its Y. M. C. A. was given Monday by announcement at a luncheon conference of leaders that the division commanders had commissioned the full quota of 15 captains. The captains are to be selected in recruiting their teams and it is expected that the required 150 men will be enlisted by next Monday noon, when a report meeting will be held. The selective conscription idea is involved in that the great care is to be exercised in selecting men for the teams, the desire being to enroll those with salesmanship ability and possessing reputation for public spirit and civic enterprise.

Battling Axes Against Y. M. C. A. — The Y. M. C. A. has assigned the three divisions of 50 men each. The "Y" division is to be managed by Oscar A. Holt, C. S. Atwood, Jesse Earle and George Jacobs will direct the division to be known as the "Y" division. The third division unit has taken the explosive title of the "T. N. T. Gang," and Charles Toulton and Edward Amerpohl will flog the proposition.

E. O. Holt, associate chairman of the campaign, presided at Monday's conference and in addressing the leaders present, paid a high tribute to the work done by the Y. M. C. A. in Janesville under the direction of General Secretary Joseph A. Steiner. He stated that for years Janesville has needed a modern "Y" building and that the present building, erected 30 years ago, was now wholly inadequate to present-day needs. He commended Secretary Steiner for his persistent stressing to the association board of directors the necessity of a development program which included erecting a modern "Y" building and to reach hundreds of boys and young men who could not be attracted or accommodated within the present building. The new building, it is stated, will be planned to accommodate approximately 2,000 members, while the present enrollment is less than 500.

In addition, a thoroughly modern Y. M. C. A. plant will be able to render a larger community service and serve as the headquarters of various welfare and community activities.

The official line-up of division and team leaders is announced by Secretary Steiner as follows:

"BEAR CATS" DIVISION
Oscar A. Holt, Manager.
C. S. Atwood, Associate Manager.
Team 1—E. S. Haines, Captain.
Team 2—J. T. Hooper, Captain.
Team 3—H. J. Scriver, Captain.

"GO-GETTERS" DIVISION
Jesse Earle, Manager.
George A. Jacobs, Associate Mgr.
Team 4—D. J. Marcus, Captain.
Team 5—W. B. Bailey, Captain.
Team 6—H. J. Hart, Captain.

"T. N. T. GANG" DIVISION
Charles Toulton, Manager.
Ed. Amerpohl, Associate Mgr.
Team 7—W. B. Bailey, Captain.
Team 8—H. J. Hart, Captain.
Team 9—J. P. Hammarlund, Captain.

"T. N. T. GANG" DIVISION
Team 10—S. F. Wiener, Captain.
Team 11—S. F. Wiener, Captain.
Team 12—S. F. Wiener, Captain.

"T. N. T. GANG" DIVISION
Team 13—Robert F. Huggs, Captain.
Team 14—William O'Connell, Captain.
Team 15—Walter H. Kehler, Captain.

"T. N. T. GANG" DIVISION
Team 16—Morgan, International Y. M. C. A. secretary, directing the campaign, announced that in order to stimulate prompt action in recruiting the desired number of workers, bonus subscription would be awarded the teams in the order that they completed and filed at the campaign headquarters. These recruiting prizes will be provided from pre-campaign contributions secured by the executive committee and be credited to the winning teams in their first official reports on Oct. 21, ranging from $750 to the first team down to $50 for the 15th team recruited.

208 Enrolled in Night Classes

Two hundred eight students were enrolled on the opening of the public night school classes at the vocational and high school buildings Monday night, according to G. J. Ehart, director. Added numbers are expected Thursday night.

Both advanced and beginning typewriting classes are well filled, 42 taking that course. Possibly a half dozen more students could be accommodated. The shorthand classes have 28 students, with room for a few more.

Twelve nurses of Mercy hospital school of nursing are enrolled in dietetics. Three men signed for mechanical and two for structural drawing, but these classes probably will not be continued unless there is greater interest. At least 10 are wanted in the class.

Sewing classes have the largest enrollment—64—with room for five or six more. The auto mechanics course has 11 students, with a possibility of one or two additional.

Only four are in the machine shop class, and six or more are desired. Auto electricity has 11, and can also accommodate more.

Other courses in which there is still opportunity to enroll are: Citizenship papers, Spanish, business English and arithmetic. The calculating machine operation class is full. Only one call for cooking has come this year, and it is not expected a course will be started. There has been one call for radio instruction, and another for elms painting. If enough are interested, the courses may be offered.

Those who desire to enroll are to report at the vocational or high school buildings at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

CHIEF NEWMAN GOES TO STATE MEETING

CHEVROLET CAR IN

ENDURANCE TEST

3,500 Mile Run on County Roads Under Way: Novel Feature Introduced.

Starting at 8 a. m. Tuesday, a stock Chevrolet car of the R. W. Motor Sales company of Janesville, commenced a 100 hour endurance run of 3,500 miles to be completed by Saturday noon. The run will be confined to the roads of Rock county at 50 miles an hour.

Two drivers, J. E. Miller and Victor Jersild, will alternate at the wheel, in eight hour shifts. Miller started Tuesday morning and was relieved at 4 p. m. by Jersild. Miller went back on again until midnight, when Jersild took the car again. The car will be driven the 100 hours with the motor running constantly. Stops will be made only to take on gasoline and oil. There will be an official observer, with the car at all times, not in any way connected with the R. W. company or with the Chevrolet company. He will keep an accurate account of all gasoline, water and oil used and report on the continual performance of the motor.

In conjunction with the run, H. Hattingson, P. E. Gurnell, and J. E. Vurrell are known throughout the east as the "mechanical" men of the "King of the Road" contest. The endurance of a still new car for five hours and 54 minutes; of not making an eye-lid for an hour and 57 minutes; and of making a lasting impression on the minds of the Chevrolet car and its 3,500 miles, to anyone who can drive an automobile, will be performed in the windows of the R. W. company and from a car in the business section.

Business Women

Urged to Vote at

Coming Election

The opening meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club for the season of 1924-25, held Monday night in the Y. W. C. A., was largely attended. Miss Miriam Becker, elected head of the club at the annual meeting in May, presided for the first time. Miss Helen Wilcox had continuity ending.

Miss Herbert Markham, new physician, was introduced and made announcements about the health education activities of the Y. W. C. A. The program committee chairman, Miss Ella Jacobson, submitted a tentative program, with the request that each member offer criticism and suggestions, which will be considered by the committee before the program is issued in printed form. Several new members were voted into the club.

The program was both educational and entertaining. The principal talk was by Ellen Gardiner on the topic, "Vote as You Please, but Vote." Mr. Gardiner called attention to the fact that less than 50 percent of those eligible to vote did so in the last presidential election. He said that the privilege of voting had been fought for by the people's forefathers and that the obligation to vote is a matter of serious importance. The ratio of men and women voting in 1920 was 5 men to 2 women. Women should make a better showing this year, he said. If all the effort put forth to win the vote for women is to be justified, interesting character sketches of the three leading presidential candidates were given. The following: Coolidge, Miss Hazel Weidick; La Follette, Miss Helene Hinder; Davis, Miss Evelyn Chapman.
